

Finding Lot Numbers and Expiration Dates

Each product at Weaver and Company has a recorded lot number and expiration date for strict quality control. This information can be found in various locations depending on the product container and packaging.

For tubes, the lot number and expiration date can be found in the crimp of the tube as shown below. For jars, the information can be found on the underside of the jar. All 3-pack boxes also display the lot number and expiration date on the underside of the box. If you need any further assistance locating these numbers, please call us at (800) 525-2130.

